

On 18th and 19th April interstuhl arranged the first LATAM-Meeting for all its partners in South America. Participants of the meeting were Bortolini from Brazil, Corporation Cardenas from Venezuela, Giuliani from Argentina, Intergrupe from Chile, Mobi Office from Peru, Open Space Design from Panama, Riviera from Mexico and Solinoff from Colombia. The meeting focused mainly on presenting new products like EVERYis1, X&Y, Ritmo, KINETICis5 and VINTAGEis5 as well as our new fabric concept. Sven von Boetticher, the designer of EVERYis1, gave an insight into the development of EVERYis1 and held a presentation about architecture and design. Our Latin-American partners were very enthusiastic about the entire event, particularly about our new products. Interstuhl's aim is to build close partnerships and to cooperate successfully within the South-American market.
