

VINTAGEis5 Inspires. Reflects office culture.

The audience has now decided. As of 4th March 2014, VINTAGEis5 is ranked sixth among the 50 top products at Stylepark, a leading international platform for architecture and design. Stylepark, acting as a professional curator, service provider, consultant and commentator, convoys between manufacturers, architects, planners and other interested parties. VINTAGEis5 has already been nominated for the German Design Award 2014. Only the best receive this prize. An international premium prize that underlines the reputation of great designers and companies. It honors top-class products and projects in the fields of product and communication, design personalities and young designers, all leading the way in the German and international design scene.

Excellent benefits: the iF product design award Anyone who designs and develops or manufactures a product wants to see it being used. The person buying it wants to see the benefits too. The iF product design award offers an excellent basis for both sides. A design that prevails will have an impressive reputation. VINTAGEis5 again demonstrated its great features. VINTAGEis5 was also a finalist in the FX Award. This is one of the most recognized awards, where design talents and manufactures submit their best projects and products. Interstuhl is happy that VINTAGEis5 is one of the finalists for the International FX Interior Design Award, in the category 'Workplace Seating'. Design, ergonomic features and recyclability are only a selection of the evaluation criteria.

All these international awards demonstrate, that interstuhl is on the right track with its product design.
