

The variety of seating, now available interactively on the website!

To help you more efficiently in the area of space and equipment planning, we have now implemented the multimedia variety of seating, which includes the entire product portfolio of interstuhl. The structure is divided into different room scenarios, which can be found in a building; from reception to open-plan offices to management or bistro. You can easily change all space scenes with a simple mouse click; thus inspire and convince your customers more quickly. Simply click on the selected alternative product and the room scene changes instantly. Therefore, your customer and you will get an impression on how the space would look with the selected products. Naturally, we provide you with the DWG and 3DS data of all products for free, so you can plan your interactive space swiftly and easily. We support your creativity!
