

In the interstuhl calendar you can see the Silver chair from different points of view. Interstuhl provided 12 photographers with a Silver 362S. The photographers could compose an artistic scene with this chair according to their very own ideas. It was not the objective to take a classic product photo but rather to overcome the limits between art and design and to give the viewer the possibility to see the product from a completely new perspective.